Thesis Title:

New Principles and Methods for Complex Data Preparation and Integration

Thesis Description:

Data, data, and more data. Everywhere you look people are doing cool things with data. Researchers in all fields are finding new ways to extract insights from novel types of data – from satellite images to social media network data and text off the internet. My research delves into the challenges of designing, handling and documenting the increasingly complex and multi-faceted datasets we are learning from and telling stories with.
